

The process you listed is essentially a high-volume application → examination → evaluation → ranking → allocation → enrollment lifecycle. Similar workflows exist across multiple domains, not just NTA/competitive examinations.

1. Education & Examination Systems

A. National Entrance Examination Systems

Examples:

- National Testing Agency (NTA)
- Consortium of National Law Universities
- National Board of Examinations

Workflow:

Registration → Exam Scheduling → Admit Card → Exam → Evaluation → Result → Rank → Counselling → Seat Allocation → Admission

Examples:

- JEE Main
- NEET UG
- CUET
- CLAT
- GPAT
- GATE
- CAT

B. University Admission Systems

Examples:

- University Grants Commission based admissions
- Central Universities
- Private Universities

Workflow:

Application → Eligibility Verification → Entrance Test/Interview → Merit List → Counselling → Seat Allocation → Fee Payment → Enrollment

Examples:

- Delhi University
- JNU
- BHU
- Manipal
- UPES

2. Recruitment & Hiring Systems

Award Allocation

Contract Execution

Common Enterprise Platform Pattern

All these systems can be generalized into a single platform architecture:

Common Stakeholders Across These Systems

Stakeholder Group	Examples
Applicants	Students, Candidates, Citizens
Administrators	NTA, University, HR Team
Verifiers	Document Verification Teams
Evaluators	Examiners, Interviewers
Allocation Authorities	Counselling Bodies, Recruitment Boards
Payment Agencies	Banks, Payment Gateways
Auditors	Internal/External Auditors
Reporting Authorities	Government, Management
Support Teams	Helpdesk, Technical Support
End Institutions	Colleges, Departments, Employers
